DETAILED ACTION

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 1,8, 16,17,18, and 21-23 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Ditto (USPN 4076788). Ditto teaches the claimed process as evidenced at col 6, lns 17-24; col 7, lns 10-30; and figs 1-5. It should be noted that the claimed term “charging” has been given its plain definition of filling since the instant specification has not provided a differing or more narrow definition.

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claims 19-20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Ditto (USPN 4076788). The above teachings of Ditto are incorporated hereinafter. In regard to the desired clamping force, clamping force is a result-effective variable that is addressed by Ditto at col 6, lns 17-24; col 7, lns 10-30; and figs 1-5. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to clamp the mold of Ditto with the claimed pressure since it has been held that discovering an optimum value of a result effective variable involves only routine skill in the art. In the present invention, one would have been motivated to optimize the amount of clamping pressure in order to ensure sufficient uniformity with the least amount of pressure.

5. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1,8, and 16-23 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

6. Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to EDMUND H. LEE whose telephone number is 571.272.1204. The examiner can normally be reached on MONDAY-THURSDAY FROM 9AM-4PM.
